14 Dead, 8 Missing After Fire in Lynn Mass. Rooming Hotel

Early Morning Blaze Sweeps Through Five Story Building

Lynn, Mass., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Flames swept through a five-story apartment and rooming house here today, sending fire from basement to roof as if it were a huge brick furnace and leaving 14 dead and 21 in hospitals while firemen worked through smoking embers in search of eight persons still missing.

The fire started in the basement and swept upward so quickly that dozens of tenants, many of them aged and infirm, were trapped on the top floors of the structure, Melvin Hall, in the center of the city.

Firemen found many clinging to high ledges as flames enveloped the building. Others had jumped and lay moaning and screaming on the ground.

"I saw a number of persons come to the windows on the top floor and then fall back," said Police Sergeant William Gillespie.

Harry Anderson, janitor of the building, discovered the fire at 1:45 a. m. in a coal bin in the cellar.

Forrest Alden, 31, told of his escape from the top floor.

Tells of Escape
"I saw one woman jump from a nearby room," he said. "She seemed to strike the wall of the building, and then was thrown across the space between the rooming house and the next building. She finally fell in a heap on the edge of the fire net."

"I hung out the window, gave myself a little shove and let go my grip. I landed on my back in the net. It was a terrible experience."

The heat became so intense that William Day, 28-year-old infantile paralysis victim, aided by crutches, could hardly stand on the floor even with his shoes on.

Pathos and Heroism

"My mother was barefooted," he said. "I don't see how she could stand it. But she remained cool and wrapped wet towels around our faces. The firemen finally reached us over a high ladder."

Stories of pathos and heroism piled up. Miss Caroline Thornell, 63, whose sister Elsie, 56, was burned to death, told how she jumped from the top floor at the command of firemen.

"My sister was going to be next and I expected she would jump right after I did," Miss Thornell said. "I never saw her again."

Three-year-old Lawrence Taylor, Jr., was found dead, clasped in his mother's arms.

One of the many heroes was Eldon Taylor, 44, a contractor, who saved five persons during three trips into the flame-swept building. On one trip he reached the fourth floor, stumbled over two bodies but managed to lead three survivors to safety.

American Soldiers in Uniform Land Abroad

An East Coast Canadian Port, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The arrival in Britain of 100 United States soldiers in American uniforms was announced here today.

(They reached a British port today, it was disclosed in London, along with the largest contingent of Canadian airmen yet to reach Britain since the war started and with further reinforcements for the Canadian troops there.)

Small numbers of United States soldiers in uniform, bound for Britain as observers, had sailed in previous Canadian troop convoys.

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENIZE
Wild World War Analyst
(Telegraph Special Service)

The brightest spot for the allies today rests not in feats of arms but in a little one sentence news dispatch brought by The Associated Press from the temporary Soviet capital of Kuibyshev to say that "the Russian winter is approaching its peak period with temperatures of more than 25 degrees below zero Fahrenheit."

In other words the fierce cold which for weeks has been playing havoc in Herr Hitler's ranks is only now really hitting its pace. Note that it hasn't yet reached its peak, and there will be plenty more of it before spring.

The Russians are prepared for this, both in the matter of clothing and of fighting equipment. The Germans haven't even warm clothing to protect them. Not only are large numbers of Nazi troops being frozen to death, but it is said that trains are loaded with men being rushed back for hospital treatment of the terrible frost bite which produces the dread gangrene.

Whatever may be the feeling at seeing an enemy freeze to death, we certainly can't disavow a great ally like Muscovite winter which is having such a devastating effect on Nazi forces. Whether the Russians will be able to take full advantage of this is problematical for it is a Titanic task to conduct an offensive in sub-zero weather through the drifted snows of the blizzard-swept steppes.

We shall have to wait for spring to reveal just how much Hitler's great gamble has cost him. Reuters British news agency today estimates that the Nazis have lost 2,000,000 men killed, wounded, missing, and captured in the Russian campaign. This is one-third the number of German losses estimated by Pravda, Communist party organ, just over a month ago. Whatever the figures, actually may be, they undoubtedly are very terrible, and these men can't be immediately replaced, for they represent the cream of Hitler's armies.

Meanwhile the Russians today are reported to be squeezing tighter and tighter to cut off the salient which the Germans have been holding desperately at Moshaisk, a little southwest of Moscow. If the Bolsheviks succeed in closing this trap and annihilating the enemy, they will have wiped out the last of the strong positions which might be a grave threat against the capital in the spring. Moreover, the capture of Moshaisk would render the fighting line fluid and assist the Reds in their effort to roll the invaders back.

One of the disconcerting developments in the Far East would seem to be the Japanese capture of Tavy in lower Burma.

Poor Hunch

Los Angeles, Jan. 20.—(AP)—F. A. Wilhoit, visiting Yavas, Ariz., motorist decided the best way to reach downtown Los Angeles was to follow the street car just ahead.

He did—and wound up in a subway station, a mile and a half from daylight.

Daylight Saving Effective Feb. 9 Under Law Signed Today by FDR

Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—President Roosevelt signed the daylight-saving bill today and it becomes effective at 2 a. m. February 9 for all interstate commerce and federal government activities.

During congressional debate it was said that it was assumed the observance of daylight time, by moving all clocks ahead one hour, would become general throughout the nation.

The measure will become inoperative six months after the war ends, unless congress votes to terminate it before then.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary said that it had the same objectives as the daylight-saving act of the last World War—"greater efficiency in our industrial war effort."

Ill-Fated Lombard Plane 7 Miles Off Its Charted Course

Ferry Pilots Lost in Friday's Crash Were "Cream of Crop"

Las Vegas, Nev., Jan. 20.—(AP)—The Transcontinental & Western Air transport which carried Carole Lombard, 35 ferry pilots and six others to death was seven miles off its course and presumably did not have engine trouble, investigators reported today.

A TWA spokesman said the luxury ship was seven miles north-west of its course. He stated the course is 25 miles wide and that TWA planes are not routed over such high peaks as the 8700-foot mountain into which the ship crashed Friday night.

A representative of the Civil Aeronautics Authority said propellers of the twin-engine craft were not feathered, as they would have been if the motors had faltered.

All instruments were reduced to junk, eliminating any chance of gaining a clue from them.

The investigation is being conducted by the army, the C. A. A., two representatives of the national house of representatives committee on major air disasters, TWA and local officials.

Clark Gable, Miss Lombard's husband, broke his hotel room isolation yesterday to visit a mortuary and select a casket. He did not view her body, choosing to remember her as he last saw her a week ago.

Then he drove to the foothills and asked a recovery party to search the wreckage carefully for Miss Lombard's wedding ring and

Iron Nerve Fails to Maintain Life

Taylorville, Ill., Jan. 20.—(AP)—An iron-nerved railroad conductor, pinned with fatal injuries beneath the wheels of a freight car, talked quietly for 23 minutes last night with would-be rescuers before he lost consciousness and died.

Lewis Allton, 52, fell under the car as he stooped to set a brake while the Chicago & Illinois Midland train was switching at Langleville. The lower part of his body was badly mangled.

A crew of men, using big jacks, strove to raise the car to free Allton's torn body from under the wheels. Conscious and rational for a time, the injured man watched the operation calmly and spoke in normal tones with the men as they worked.

Before he could be freed, however, Allton lost consciousness. When his body was lifted from beneath the car an hour later he was dead. Allton was a veteran of 25 years of railroad work.

Berlin Press Shows Panic: Japs Nearer Singapore-- Yankee Bombers Sink Jap Cruiser

Russians Execute Big Crack-the-Whip Movement at Front

"Escape Corridor" for 100,000 Germans in East Narrowed

(By The Associated Press)
Russia's armies, executing a gigantic crack-the-whip movement, were reported to have further narrowed the "escape corridor" of 100,000 German troops at Moshaisk today and smashed Adolf Hitler's winter defense line at two important points.

The battle for Kharkov, Russia's "Pittsburgh" in the Ukraine, also was reported entering a decisive phase.

Soviet dispatches said Red army troops, supported by hard-riding Don Cossack cavalrymen, had scored gains on both flanks of the Moshaisk hold-out garrison, 57 miles west of Moscow.

Red Star, the Russian army newspaper, said Moshaisk was burning and that hand-to-hand fighting was raging in the streets.

Soviet forces stormed across the Lama river 75 miles north of Moscow, sharpening the pressure above Moshaisk, while other Russian forces intercepted the road to Warsaw 140 miles southwest of Moscow, it was reported.

Winter Nears Peak

Front-line dispatches said the Russian winter was now approaching its peak, with temperatures colder than 25 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

Meanwhile, in tones approaching panic, the Berlin press declared that the "on-rushing enemy must be stopped, no matter when, where or how."

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters, tersely reiterating that the Germans were fighting "defensive battles" along the 1,200-mile front from Leningrad to the Ukraine, claimed success only in the Crimean campaign.

The Nazi high command said Russian troops fighting northeast of Feodosiya, which was reported recaptured by the Germans yesterday, had been driven eastward along the Kerch peninsula.

Heavy German Losses

Reuters, British news agency, estimated Germany had lost 2,000,000 men, killed, severely wounded, missing and prisoners in the Russian campaign.

Evidence that Adolf Hitler was seeking replacements from junior partners in the axis came from Bern, Switzerland.

Dispatches from Bern said Hungary had agreed to German-Italian demands for more military assistance in the war against Russia. Hungary, which has sent only a token force east, was reported to have been asked by Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop to show "the same loyalty as Rumania".

Russian figures indicate Rumania has sent 26 divisions against the Red army and has lost 13 of them.

Fifth of Doctors in State Institutions Quit to Serve U. S.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Approximately 30 doctors or 20 per cent of the total physician personnel have resigned from the staffs of state hospitals, most of them to enter military services, Welfare Director Rodney H. Brandon estimated yesterday.

He said some of the physicians have been replaced but that a shortage in institution doctors and nurses continues and threatens to become more acute because of the war demands and the legislature's failure to enact an emergency welfare department employment bill in the recent special session.

The bill would have permitted transfer of departmental funds so that more nurses and attendants could be engaged to partially compensate for the reduction in the staffs of physicians at some of the hospitals.

Churchill to Ask for House Vote of Support if Dared

London, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, confronting a restive House of Commons, informed its members today that he shared their anxiety about operations in the Pacific but told them he had "growing confidence" in eventual victory there.

Announcing that a three-day debate would be held soon on the war situation, the prime minister also showed evidence of equal confidence in his personal strength.

Addressing parliament for the first time since his return from the historic conferences in Washington and Ottawa, the prime minister offered to call for a vote of confidence if the debate should disclose any challenge to his government.

Churchill won an initial victory against a threat to force his hand and obtain an immediate discussion of the defense of Malaya.

Churchill Prevails

As promised, Liberal National Member Edgar Granville moved that the house adjourn—a parliamentary device that would enable the members to question at once the adequacy of British strength guarding threatened Singapore.

Churchill prevailed, however, when the speaker refused to entertain the motion. No member rose to support Granville and the matter was dropped.

Hoarse-voiced and suffering from a cold, Churchill was loudly cheered when he entered the chamber.

When asked if he were prepared to make a statement to allay members' anxieties, the prime minister replied:

"I naturally share the anxieties that are felt on the war in the Far East. But I also have a growing confidence, which I think might be justified, in the eventual outcome of this struggle."

Higher Salary for Henderson Okayed

Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—A joint congressional committee agreed today to raise the annual salary of the Price Control Administrator to $12,000 a year but failed to reach a compromise on numerous other controversial features of the war-time price control legislation.

Chairman Brown (D-Mich.) of the senate conferees told reporters that the house conferees had receded from their provision that the salary be $10,000.

"We agreed to raise Mr. Henderson's salary and talked over the buying and selling provisions," Brown said. Leon Henderson, now controlling prices under a presidential order, told congress he expected to be reappointed to any price-fixing job authorized by the legislation. He now receives $10,000.

Senator Barkley the Democratic leader, told reporters that the price control dispute had been discussed at a White House conference of congressional leaders, adding that he expected the senate-house committee would be able to "get together" on a compromise although it was uncertain when this would be.

Brown's reference to the "buying and selling" provisions was authority to buy, store or sell various commodities in an effort to control their prices. Both the house and senate approved these activities with certain restrictions.

It was indicated a compromise might be near on the highly controversial farm sections.

Village Citizens Police Sublette

A novel method of policing a small community by an efficient voluntary force of citizens has been adopted by the village of Sublette, who have the cooperation of Sheriff Gilbert Finch. Mayor Leonard Vaessen and Supervisor Charles Kuebel originated the plan which provides the village with police protection at no cost to the residents.

Mayor Vaessen is chief of a force of 20 representative business men and prominent citizens, who have been sworn in as special deputies by Sheriff Finch for the purpose of protecting the village and its residents. The deputies work in pairs each night patrolling the village streets and places of business taking turns regularly. All of the citizens who have offered their services voluntarily, serve without compensation in providing police protection to the village.

Nipponese Forces Reported 60 Miles From Stronghold

Exert Heavy Pressure on Defenders Along Entire Front

Associated Press War Editor
Japanese invasion troops, attacking only 60 miles north of Singapore, were officially reported exerting "heavy pressure on the entire front" in western Malaya today, and a crisis in the defense of Britain's $400,000,000 stronghold was apparently imminent as seaborne Japanese forces cut in below the main battle line.

Domei, official Japanese news agency, said Japanese vanguards late yesterday had advanced within 18 miles of the causeway across Johore strait to Singapore island.

Official dispatches said Japanese patrols and landing parties were swarming along a 30-mile coastal belt in western Malaya—from the Muar river, 90 miles north of Singapore, to Batu Pahat, barely 60 miles away.

On the Malayan east coast, Japanese forces were reported to have reached the Endau area, 75 miles north of Johore strait.

British headquarters said RAF fighters machine-gunned enemy barges at the mouth of the Muar river, in the Malacca straits settlement, where British, Australian and Indian troops were striving to stabilize the front.

Chinese intelligence reports said 5,000 wounded Japanese were being crowded into hospitals in Saigon, French Indo-China, and that urns containing the ashes of another 5,000 dead were awaiting shipment to Japan—attesting the high cost of Japanese conquest on the road to Singapore.

Smash 10 Jap Tanks
Dispatches from the Malayan jungle front credited Australian troops with smashing 10 Japanese tanks and holding out all day after they had been surrounded, until British troops fought their way through to the relief.

Australian anti-tank gunners held their fire against the Japanese tanks until they were only 30 feet away, the dispatches said; then the sergeant in charge shouted:

"Pour it into them—right into their bellies!"

As survivors of the Japanese tank crews crawled from their burning machines, they were picked off one by one.

British military quarters acknowledged that the invaders were now only 60 miles from Singapore

Nazi Super-Plane Falls in England

London, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The question of whether Germany possesses any warplanes capable of flying the Atlantic with a load of bombs has been answered by the crash of one such plane in northeast England.

Aviation experts said that the plane, which crashed after striking a barrage balloon cable, had a range of 4,500 miles—sufficient to enable it to bomb the United States east coast from a base in France but not enough to get it home again.

The plane was identified as a Dornier 217, a development of the old DO-17 which has been known here as the "Flying Pencil" because of its elongated fuselage.

That Germany has been developing such a bomber has been known in Britain for some time. Last November the magazine Aeroplane published the following specifications of the craft:

Wing span, 72 feet; length 63 feet five inches; wing area 830 square feet; weight empty, 16,800 pounds; weight loaded, 30,850 pounds; overload, 35,000 pounds; speed 294 miles an hour at 19,000 feet; overload range, 4,500 miles at 200 miles an hour.

Prices of All Grades of Gasoline Cannot Go Above Level of Nov. 7

Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Retail dealers in all grades of gasoline received notice from Price Administrator Leon Henderson today that their prices must remain at or below the level of last November 7, or a price ceiling will be imposed.

The warning was contained in a general letter to producers, refiners and marketers of petroleum products clarifying price questions on petroleum and a list of specified petroleum products

Over Score Dixon Merchants Assist in Cooking School

Housewives of Dixon and its trade area will have the opportunity to raise their personal rating as cooks and homemakers at the Dixon Evening Telegraph's eighth annual cooking school, which was scheduled to get underway this afternoon at the Dixon Theatre, to continue for four days.

You may be able to bake an angel food cake as light as thistle-down, or perhaps your chicken à la Maryland has brought you renown, but you still can glean plenty of useful information about the culinary art from the cooking sessions now in progress. Presiding over the classes are Mrs. George (Aunt Mzie) Thurn, nationally-known lecturer and home economics specialist.

The complete course is planned with such a slant to modern methods of cooking the best and easiest ways that it will interest both the cook of many years experience, and the young bride whose first batch of biscuits is yet unbaked. Mrs. Thurn and her capable young assistant, Miss Stewart, arrived yesterday to aid in the many last-minute details involved in assembling their model kitchen on the theatre stage.

Merchants Participate
In addition to the food lectures and demonstrations, laundry questions will be answered. More than 20 merchants and manufacturers are participating in this year's Cooking School, including:

Dixon Distilled Water Ice company, Kline's Spurgeon's, Eichler Brothers, Cook's Flower Shop, Beier's Bakery, Dixon Paint Store, Ware Hardware company, Mellott Furniture company, Coss Dairy, Dixon Home Telephone company, Plowman's Busy Store, Royal Blue Store, Erzinger Shoe store, Nixon's Dress and Beauty Salon, Cleon Candy company, Massey's Ace Hardware company, Deluxe Cleaners, Villiger's Drug store, Lever Brothers, Pillsbury Flour, and Fleishman's Compressed Yeast.

Doors open daily at 1 p. m., and the sessions start promptly at 1:45. Free recipe sheets are available at each session. Admission is free.

Price Ceiling Placed On Animal Products Used for Farm Feeds

Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration established temporary price ceilings today on animal products used as feed for livestock and poultry.

OPA said prices since the outbreak of the war had gone up to about $12.50 a ton and that it was believed supplies were being held back in anticipation of further price increases.

The temporary ceilings stabilizing prices for feed at levels prevailing January 17. A permanent price schedule will be established upon completion of further OPA studies of the situation.

Fourteen different commodities, including blood meal, blood flour, meat scraps, and bone meal, are covered by the ceiling.

OPA also fixed temporary maximum prices for sales by processors of fish meal, which has become one of the principal sources of high protein ingredients used in making poultry and live stock feed. This ceiling also was based on January 17 prices.

Inquisitive

Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—"How many share the bath?" asked an inspector for the defense housing registry, which tries to find rooms for the hundreds of new government employees who arrive each week.

Well, admitted the prospective landlady, things certainly are crowded.

"But we still take our baths separately."

United States Navy, Army, Raise Total of Sinkings to Forty

MacArthur's Men Still Fighting on Island of Mindanao Today

Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The war department said today American bombers sank a Japanese cruiser and scored direct hits on a tanker, leaving the latter in flames 100 miles off Jolo in the southern Philippines.

Three enemy airplanes were shot down as the Japanese renewed their attack on General Douglas MacArthur's forces on Batan peninsula on the Island of Luzon, the department's communique also said.

At the same time, the first indication for many days that the Japanese were still opposed by American forces on the Island of Mindanao came in a report from MacArthur that sharp fighting was in progress between Philippine troops and a Japanese force about 35 miles north of Davao, which is on the southern end of Mindanao.

The attack on the Japanese cruiser and tanker was carried out by six army bombers.

40 Jap Ships Sunk
Sinking of the cruiser raised to 40 the total of Japanese war craft and other vessels sunk by United States military and naval action.

The navy previously had reported the sinking of 29 vessels including a light cruiser destroyed by the Marines at Wake island, and also four destroyers, four submarines, eight transports, five cargo vessels, three merchantmen and one each of the following—gunboat, mine sweeper, supply vessel, and liner.

The army had announced the destruction of the battleship Haruna, four vessels engaged in Japanese landing operations off Davao in the Philippines and also two destroyers, one submarine and two transports.

Jolo, an island of the Sulu group, lies between Mindanao and North Borneo.

Depth Bombers Busy
Word of the successful bomber attack on a Japanese cruiser was received as depth bombs made Atlantic coastal waters an unhealthy hunting ground for axis submarine raiders, although for the present the navy was keeping mum on the subject of enemy mortality.

The text of the army communique, number 67 of the war, based on reports received here up to 8:30 a. m. CST:

"The Philippine theater:
"The enemy has renewed the attack on the American and Philippine troops on Batan peninsula. Japanese pressure is particularly heavy at the center of the line. The attack is supported by aircraft. Three enemy airplanes were shot down during the past 24 hours.

"General MacArthur has received a report from Mindanao telling of sharp fighting now in progress between Philippine troops and a Japanese force about 35 miles north of Davao.

"Six American army bombers successfully attacked a Japanese cruiser and a large tanker 100 miles off Jolo. Several direct hits were scored, sinking the cruiser and leaving the tanker in flames.

"2. There is nothing to report from other areas."

Despite the character of the enemy effort in the Atlantic, one informed source said that the known results to date were likely to fall short of axis expectations.

Bombed Tanker Makes Port
The latest submarine attack to be announced was not as successful as its three predecessors, for the raider failed to make the kill. He torpedoed and sank the 8,206-ton Malay yesterday, but she managed to stay afloat and limped into port, with a casualty list of one killed and four missing out of a crew of 34.

Like the three ships which torpedoed have sunk since last Wednesday, the Malay was a tanker but there was no disposition here to draw conclusions on that account. While it is true that tankers have been a favorite target, it is also true that they are normally more numerous in Atlantic coast shipping lanes.

As a precautionary measure the government recommended to the big oil companies that they increase the use of railroad tank cars for transporting their products to both coasts. The request noted that, beside the tankers torpedoed in east and west coast runs, others had been taken out of regular service for military duty.

Of Interest to Farmers

Letter "V" Stands for Vegetables, Too, In Farm Language

Greatest Supply of Canned Goods in History Needed This Year

"V" stands for vegetables as well as for victory, agriculturally speaking. The reason is that the greatest supply of canned vegetables in the history of the country will be needed in 1942 to boost health and for ultimate victory in the war.

Surpassing record levels of food production during 1941, Illinois farmers and canners in 1942 will do their share in growing and canning the 40 million cases of tomatoes, 38 million cases of peas, 12 1/2 million cases of snap beans and 24 million cases of corn. These are the goals called for by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard.

Largest increases for 1942 are for one-fourth more tomatoes and one-third more peas. The goal for canned snap beans is about the same as in 1941, while the canned corn goal is about 2 million cases less than the record-breaking pack of 1941.

To encourage this increased production in Illinois and other states, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, through its Surplus Marketing Administration, has agreed to purchase all 1942 canned tomatoes offered to it through December 31, 1942, at the base price of 95 cents for a dozen No. 2 cans of U. S. Grade C tomatoes, f. o. b. cannery, and all 1942 canned peas through October 31, 1942, at $1.10 for a dozen No. 2 cans, Alaskas or Sweet's, f. o. b. cannery, for U. S. Grade C.

Prices Guaranteed
These prices to canners are guaranteed only under certain provisions, explains L. H. Simerl, marketing specialist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. The canner making an offer of either tomatoes or peas must be certified by the USDA state defense board as having agreed by contract with growers to pay at least a specified minimum price applying to their particular locality. The minimum price to growers for tomatoes will be not less than $5 a ton over the comparable 1940 prices as determined by the state defense board. The minimum price for peas will not be less than $17.50 a ton over comparable 1940 prices.

Growers and canners will be assisted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in obtaining priorities for materials, equipment and plant facilities required in the production and canning of vegetables.

Growers will be asked to expand acreage only where adequate canning facilities are available and where satisfactory contracts can be made with canners.

Canners will cooperate by contracting acreages to the full extent.

Ashton Youth and His F. F. A. Project

The group includes one cow, one yearling heifer, two heifer calves and one bull calf. Duane started the project last year when he purchased a heifer calf at a dispersal sale near Chicago. Then this fall he purchased a cow and another heifer from the famous Foxwood Farms at Elborn the home of the famous Mary's Neil and last year's state fair champion cow. All of these purchases have been made with money made from potato, sheep and corn projects.

tent of their plant capacity and by making their contract prices to growers at least the minimum made possible by the government's purchase program. Grower can assure themselves of obtaining satisfactory prices for the 1942 production by entering into specific contract with cooperating canners, Simerl said.

Approximately 2 Tons of Scrap Collected by Dixon Future Farmers

Approximately 4,000 pounds of scrap iron was collected last Saturday by the members of the Dixon Future Farmers of America chapter. Since most of the abandoned farm implements were frozen securely to the ground, it will be necessary to make another collection at a later date. Any farmer or townspeople who have scrap which they wish to dispose of in this manner are requested to notify any of the members of the F. F. A. whom they know or phone B-1632 and leave their name and address.

Waste paper is being collected and those wishing to support the F. F. A. program are urged to cooperate in this patriotic endeavor. The boys wish to express their thanks and appreciation to those who contributed in the first attempt Saturday and special thanks is extended to L. D. Book for the use of his truck in collecting the scrap.

Oil discovered in 1913 in Alberta province of Canada was of such high grade in an unrefined state that it would satisfactorily operate an automobile.

Milk Necessary to Get Sturdy Crop of Calves Says Rhode

University of Illinois Dairy Expert Gives Timely Pointers

Dairymen who are tempted to sell all their milk at war-promoted high prices, thereby depriving their growing calves of body-building nutrients furnished in milk, may be sacrificing future returns from their herds, according to dairy authorities.

Raising calves satisfactorily with a minimum amount of milk has become a real issue in recent months, as milk and butterfat prices have risen under the food-freedom program, explains C. S. Rhode, of the dairy department, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

"Calves can not be raised satisfactorily without a certain amount of milk," according to Rhode. "Where butterfat is sold and skim milk is still available for calf feeding, the problem is simplified. The skim milk may gradually be substituted for whole milk when the calf is three or four weeks old. At two to four weeks of age, the calves will begin to eat a little grain and good quality legume hay. A satisfactory grain mixture to feed with skim milk is 1 part ground yellow corn, 1 part ground oats, and 1/2 part each of bran and linseed oil meal. Bone meal and salt should be added at the rate of 1 pound each to 100 pounds of the mixture."

Different Feeding
On farms where whole milk is sold, Rhode explains that raising calves economically and satisfactorily requires a different plan of feeding. Skim milk powder may be used instead of skim milk for calf feeding when it is available at reasonable prices. One pound of dried milk to nine pounds of warm water should be used.

Because of the high price of powdered skim milk and the need of it for other purposes, dairymen are encouraged to use other feeds in the calf starter ration. Rhode recommends that whole milk be fed until calves are two to four weeks of age. After that they may be started on a mixture of 20 parts dry skim milk, 25 parts ground oats, 23 parts ground yellow corn, 15 parts linseed meal, 10 parts wheat bran, 5 parts blood flour, 1 part bone meal, and 1 part salt. As the calves eat more of this mixture, the whole milk allowance may be reduced. At eight to 10 weeks of age, the whole milk may be dropped from the ration.

Calves may need a vitamin D supplement during the winter unless they are out in the sunshine for an hour or more daily. If the calves eat 2 1/2 pounds or more of good quality, sun-cured hay daily, they will receive plenty of vitamin D. A feeding grade of cod-liver oil, fed at the rate of 1 level teaspoonful daily for each 100 pounds live weight, usually provides ample amount of both vitamin A and D.

Swine Feeding and Management Farm School Theme

A discussion of swine feeding and management problems will be the chief topic of study at tonight's meeting of the adult farmers' school at the high school building. Particular emphasis will be given to the ways and means of conserving labor in pork production. Clarence Hart, an outstanding farmer of Bradford township will meet with the group to describe his methods in raising hogs. His experiences should prove of great practical value to the evening school group.

At the Jan. 13 meeting, a discussion was conducted on the subject of farm labor under war conditions. Many helpful suggestions were made as to how farmers may meet the labor shortage.

It was unanimously agreed that a Rural Defense Committee for Lee county be formed. Such a committee has been organized and is functioning very satisfactorily in Logan county. It is designed among other things, to assist local draft boards in their selection of farm boys for service through a careful analysis of the labor situation on the individual farms of the community. Such a committee would also keep in constant touch with the farm labor problem within each township to relieve bad situations as rapidly as possible.

Attendance at the Jan. 13 meeting was very good and Instructor L. V. Slothower urges farmers of this community to attend this week's session. The meetings are open to the general public and any who are interested are invited to attend.

Ogle County Farm Bureau News Notes

Several events are scheduled for this week in the Ogle county program of agricultural extension service, according to information from the Farm Bureau at Oregon. The first on Monday, January 19 is a farm planning school for AAA community committeemen. The men will go to the Frank Thomas farm near Oregon in the morning using the farm as an example and after taking notice of type of soil, arrangement of fields, rotation of crops, etc. will come back to a meeting at the coliseum and plan the cropping and livestock system for the year 1942 which they think is ideal for the farm.

On Wednesday the 21st, there will be a woodlot demonstration meeting at the Joe Brooks farm northwest of Polo where methods of woodlot management to secure income from the timber will be shown.

On Thursday evening the 22nd, D. E. Lindstrom, University of Illinois, will assist in a program planning meeting for community unit program committees helping them to outline interesting material for monthly meetings during the next several months.

On Saturday the 24th at 1:30, a county agricultural outlook meeting will be held at the Farm Bureau office to which anyone interested is invited and leaders from the several community units will be given particular assistance so that they may discuss the agricultural outlook in their local meetings. Charts will be used to show the trends in agricultural production, business activity, demands and prices. Forrest Gillespie, chairman AAA; Roy Tomlinson, conservation SCS; Miss Gladine Rutz, Home Adviser and D. E. Warren Farm Adviser will present the outlook information.

Ten meetings are scheduled during the week in preparation for the next step in the organization of the soil conservation district. Members of the county conservation district committee will take charge assisting township committees in organizing their groups to call on all land owners for their proxies to be voted in the referendum expected to be held next month. This work will go forward just as soon as approval has been received from the state committee. Interest shown in the hearing on this project last week was especially good and every township in the county was represented by a committee.

It is reported that Farm Bureau membership committees are securing many new members to the Ogle County Farm Bureau this week.

Twelve grade and registered holsteins owned by Lewis DeGraff led the association with an average production of 1308 pounds of milk and 43.3 pounds of fat on two times a day milking. None of the cows were dry.

The four other high herds were as follows:
Richard Magee, 16 R. H. 1141 milk, 40.4 fat, 3 cows dry; Gutierrez Bros. 36 R. H. 904 milk, 34.9 fat, 1 cow dry; J. W. Hemmings 10 R. H. 855 milk, 32.0 fat, 3 cows dry; Andrus & Miller 27 G.R.H. 897 milk, 30.5 fat, 1 cow dry.

Lewis DeGraff feeds a ration of 1000 pounds corn, 1000 pounds oats and 500 pounds commercial supplement. A rather high priced ration but undoubtedly bringing good results.

Richard Magee has installed water cups which should increase the quantity of milk as well as decrease the labor in the care of the cows.
The 5 high cows were as follows:
Richard Magee, R. H. 2003 milk, 69.5 fat; Lewis DeGraff, G.H. 1548 milk, 68.5 fat; W. S. Morris & Son, 1245 milk, 64.8 fat; Buford Holstein Farms, R. H. 1714 milk, 63.4 fat; Gordon Meyers, R.H. 1835 milk, 62.4 fat.

Special Care Is Recommended for All Corn Pickers

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 20—"Prepare With Repairs" might well be the slogan of the farm machinery repair campaign now underway to encourage Illinois farmers to prepare for their huge production program for 1942.

One of the most important pieces of equipment to give special care this winter after long-delayed corn harvest is completed is the corn picker, explains A. S. Paydon, extension agricultural engineer of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Soon after husking is completed

FRANK PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

We have raised our sights since the Japs struck at Pearl Harbor. We know now that we must make more planes than we had planned to make in 1942, more tanks, more anti-aircraft guns, more ships. And we must produce more eggs.

The 1942 production goals that Secretary Wickard announced last September have been out of date since December 7. Last week the Department of Agriculture announced new goals—higher goals. Now we must produce not 4 billion dozen eggs, but 4 billion 200 million dozen.

We have heard so many large figures the last few months that our first reaction may be, "Oh what's another 200 million?" Getting down to something we can visualize, it's 17 thousand carloads of eggs.

At one egg per hen per day, it's going to take a lot more hens to produce those eggs. And if we're going to produce that extra amount in 1942, we've got to get started now.

Takes Time to Grow Pullets
We've heard a lot about how long it takes to tool-up for the production of planes. And we must realize that it takes six months for pullets to grow up for egg production. The pullets necessary to produce those extra 200 million dozen eggs must be hatched this spring. The sooner you get your chicks, the sooner the pullets will be in production.

We have no time to lose.

"Keep 'em Fed"
I've seen farmers in Minnesota wearing red, white and blue buttons reading "Keep 'em Fed." They've got the idea. We've got to keep 'em fed—to "keep 'em fighting."

That's our job—to feed not only the fighting men, but the civilians in this country and the countries united with us.

We are being asked to produce "as never before. Every acre of land, every hour of labor, every bit of farm machinery and fertilizer must be put to the use which will best serve the nation's wartime needs."

I know that many officials in the Department of Agriculture feel we are not awake herein the Middle West to the seriousness of the situation.

It is true that we have not been alarmed by hearing any air raids sirens and few of us have been in any blackouts. But the comparative calmness in this part of the country does not indicate any lack of concern.

There were boys from the Middle West at Pearl Harbor; there are boys from the Middle West on duty at sea and along both coasts. The people of the Middle West know what this war means and we are ready and willing to do whatever is necessary to win it.

If it's an extra 200 million dozen eggs this country needs this year, we'll grow the pullets it will take to produce them—and we'll start now!

the picker should be put under shelter—but not without preparation. Paydon lists these recommended practices to prolong the life of the machine and save time and money next harvest season:

1. Remove all roller chains—wash them in gasoline or kerosene and dip them in clean oil. Wrapping in heavy paper or burlap will keep them free from dirt.
2. Check over the picker and order all worn or broken parts now.
3. Grease all bearings thoroughly—this will prevent accumulation of moisture in the bearings during the winter and spring.
4. Oil all chains, sprockets and rolls with heavy oil. Oil should be kept off any rubber rolls, since it causes rapid rotting of rubber.
5. Remove excess dirt, stalks, husks and silks.
6. Block up and deflate the tires on rubber-tired tractors.
7. Keep chickens and animals out of the machine shed—reserve it for your valuable machinery.

Although the second smallest state in the Union, Delaware is twice as large as Rhode Island. Texas, however, would make 112 states the size of Delaware.

According to federal estimates, farms in the United States have a value of 77 billion dollars, about two-thirds of which is represented by the land.

About 65 per cent of the world's supply of tin comes from southeast Asia.

Notes from War Correspondent

(Editor's Note: With Gen. Douglas MacArthur's hardy forces in the Philippines is Associated Press Correspondent Clark Lee, who here for the third time since the fall of Manila paints vivid pictures of what is like behind the front line of the outnumbered, beleaguered warriors.)

By CLARK LEE
With the USAFFE on Bataan Peninsula, Jan. 18—(Delayed)—(AP)—With shot and shell . . . but also with song the fighting Yanks of Bataan Peninsula sound their defiance to the attacking Japanese.

To a variety of tunes the soldiers are singing a poem entitled "Dive Low, Dive Bombers" written by Corporal Dumot F. Wade, who comes from 702 1/2 Main street, Coronado, Calif.

Corporal Wade is one of the men in a crack anti-aircraft unit I saw in action two days ago and his poem tells the whole story of the spirit of these warriors:
Dive Low, Dive Bombers.
I looked straight up and what did I see?

Six dive bombers diving at me! If my eyes listened to my feet, My eyes would still be running - - in retreat.

But I cut the fuse on a three-inch shell. And our guns were quickly giving them hell. Six silver planes came sailing by. And we blasted two right out of the sky.

This is our warning to the Rising Sun: It won't be long 'til we have the war won. Dive low, dive bombers, and give us a chance; Dive low, dive bombers, in your dying dance.

Here are other notes in a war correspondent's notebook:
A Sunday morning snapshot: A tin-hatted private of the hard-boiled Fourth Marines leaning his hand against a machine-gun barrel and carefully reading page after page of the Bible.

The USAFFE ground forces on Bataan Peninsula are composed of thousands of soldiers whose name is Joe. That's because the Americans call all the Filipinos "Joe" . . . and the Filipinos respond in kind by calling all the Americans "Joe."

The Bataan peninsula in which the Americans and Filipino forces and the Japanese armies have settled down to positional warfare, is a sparsely settled, little cultivated region of fantastically shaped trees and nearly impenetrable jungle undergrowth. Many of the trees are from 30 to 50 feet in circumference and though they tower 300 feet there is foliage only near the top. Parasitic creepers as thick as a man's body extend from the ground to the foliage. Soldiers of both sides climb the vines and hide in the treetops for sniping and observation.

Says the enemy: "America cares only for money." Responds America: "Here's our fifty million dollar answer—the Red Cross war fund." Give your share.

5th Columnists Threat to Farm Food Production

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 20—For all-out production of war machines, factories have to be kept in tip-top shape and free from fifth columnists.

For all-out production of food for freedom, farm factories also have to be kept in tip-top shape and free from fifth columnists.

One of the farm factories producing food for freedom which is most susceptible to fifth columnists is the sheep. Flock owners in Illinois therefore will take special precautions to prevent losses in 1942. Pregnancy disease, or ketosis, is the disease to watch the coming lamb season, according to animal pathologists of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

This disease occurs primarily in flocks that are underfed during the last month of pregnancy. It has been shown in studies at the University of Illinois station and other experiment stations. Ewes that give birth to twins or triplets are particularly susceptible. Many ewes that develop the disease often recover if treatment is started as soon as the first symptoms appear. Ninety per cent of the sick ewes die if treatment is delayed. Animal pathologists urge flock owners to consult a qualified veterinarian when ever pregnant ewes become dull and lose their appetite.

Few cases of pregnancy disease occur when liberal amounts of legume hay and grain are fed. For the prevention of the malady, it is recommended that, pregnant ewes get plenty of moderate exercise, be fed 1 1/2 to 1 pound of home-grown grains each daily, and 1/4 to 1/2 pound of a stock grade of corn sugar or molasses each daily.

In a single day, the discharge of the Amazon river would form a lake 25 miles long, five miles wide and 100 feet deep.

Foreign property in the U. S. under government control, exceeds 7 billion dollars in value.

RECIPE

Easy Does It! BUCKWHEAT CAKES

1 cake Fleischmann's Yeast
3 tablespoons molasses
2½ cups lukewarm water
1 cup sifted white flour
1 cup milk
1½ teaspoons salt
2 cups buckwheat flour
Dissolve yeast and molasses in lukewarm water. Scald milk, add salt and cool to lukewarm. Add to yeast; add buckwheat flour and white flour gradually, beating until smooth. Cover and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until light, about 1 hour. Stir well and bake on hot greased griddle.
Makes 45.
For Overnight Method: Use ¼ cake Fleischmann's Yeast and an additional ½ teaspoon salt. Cover and let stand overnight in a cool place.

Fleischmann's is the only yeast being used in Cooking School demonstrations this week. The Fresh Yeast—with the yellow label.

CHOCOLATE MERINGUE PIE

made the Spry FULL FLAVOR way

3 ounces chocolate, cut in pieces
2½ cups milk
3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup sugar
1½ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon butter
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 baked Spry Pie Shell
2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoon vanilla
Melt chocolate in milk in double boiler and blend with rotary egg beater. Mix flour, cornstarch, sugar and salt. Add to chocolate mixture and cook 15 minutes, stirring constantly. The mixture should be thick and smooth. Pour over slightly beaten egg yolks, return to double boiler, and cook a few minutes longer. Add butter and vanilla. Cool. Pour filling into baked pie shell. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add sugar gradually, beating constantly. Add vanilla. Fill on filling. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) 20 minutes, or until firm and delicately browned.

SPRY PIE SHELL

Use for all one-crust pies

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1½ cups cold water (about)
Sift flour and salt together. Add ½ of Spry and cut in until mixture is as fine as meal. (So easy with triple-creamed Spry and you get such tender crust.) Add remaining Spry and continue cutting until particles are size of large peas. Sprinkle water gradually over mixture. With a fork, work lightly together into a dough. Roll dough ¼-inch thick and prick with fork. Fit into 9-inch pie tin and make fluted rim. Bake in very hot oven (450° F.) 12 to 15 minutes. See what delicate-tasting pastry you get, made with Purer Spry. You'll love Spry FULL FLAVOR cakes and fried foods, too. (All measurements in these recipes are level.)

Here's one of my pet recipes —

"Tanqu Prune Dessert"

—and I make it best with my favorite flour, Pillsbury's Best!

Mrs. George Thurn
Cooking School Director

1. Sift and measure 1½ c. enriched PILLSBURY'S BEST Flour, add 2½ tps. baking powder (or 1½ tps. double-acting) and ½ tps. salt, sift three times. (The enrichment of Pillsbury's Best does not affect its appearance, flavor, or machine-baking quality, but adds two important B-vitamins and iron you need every day.) 2. Cream ½ c. shortening and 2 tps. granulated lemon rind together; add 1 c. sugar gradually; cream well. 3. Add 2 eggs, well beaten; add each additional beat gradually; cream well. 4. Add 1 cup lukewarm water; mix well after each addition; beat 1 minute. 5. Add 1 cup lukewarm water; mix well after each addition; beat 1 minute. 6. A Thought for Today

Man looketh upon the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart.—I Samuel 16:7.

For if our virtues do not go forth of us, 'twere all alike as if we had them not.—Shakespeare.

What Is Really Essential?

The standard of living of the whole American people is going to be reduced, in the material sense, for the whole period of the war.

That is the only answer to the devotion of a bigger and bigger proportion of our material goods and facilities to war purposes. Yet we are still luckier than most of the world's peoples in this: so far as may be foreseen, we should have enough of the really essential things to avoid the kind of hardship on the material plane that kills even the spirit.

Talking the other day to a refugee from Europe, we found what several years of wandering, driven before the blast of Hitlerism from country to country, stripped of all possessions and the fruits of a lifetime of labor, has taught. "We have learned," he said, "what is really important, really essential. Enough plain food, enough comfortable clothing, a warm roof overhead. People you love about you and a chance to work with them—in freedom. Those are essentials. Whatever may be had beyond this is good, but until these essentials are attacked and diminished, there is no real hardship."

American life has been the greatest gadget civilization ever contrived. We have devised more accoutrements to the mere business of living than any people ever contrived before. What is a gadget? A gadget has been defined as an ingenious mechanical device for doing efficiently something that you wouldn't have to do at all if you didn't have the gadget.

A lot of these gadgets are going to have to go. We can take it one of two ways. We can howl that it is practically a living death to have an auto without two sets of horns, cigarettes without double cellophane wrapping, one radio in the house instead of three, lamb chops without frilled paper panties, or chocolates without individual tinfoil wrapping. Or we can ask ourselves, every time one of the gadgets goes down the drain, "was it really essential?"

We may have to learn to live more simply for a time. We may have to learn to walk instead of perpetually riding. We may have to learn to stay home and face ourselves and our friends and families instead of perpetually gadding. We may have to dress plainly instead of frenziedly following every whim of fashion. Yet from all of these "deprivations" something good is to be had if we will but take it. There are physical and spiritual benefits in re-learning to walk. There are ingenuities to be uncovered in making the old clothes do, making the plain clothes attractive. In being compelled to stay with ourselves more, we may find ourselves.

The Doctors Are Prepared

Fortunately for the welfare of the American people, the American medical profession was preparing for war long before the bombs fell on Pearl Harbor.

Since June, 1940, the Journal of the American Medical Association points out, the medical profession has been intensively engaged in standardization of military medical procedures, encouragement and promotion of scientific military medical research, and enrollment of medical personnel. More than 10,000 physicians have entered military service, and over 25,000 have given their services, without charge, to the Selective Service Boards. Additional thousands of qualified men of medicine are associated with the Army and Navy Medical Corps, the Public Health Service, and other governmental departments of a military or quasi-military nature.

The doctors have shown the highest type of patriotism. On their shoulders falls the vast responsibility of keeping the military and civilian populations mentally and physically fit. They accept that responsibility without reservation. They know the material rewards will be small. Their principal reward will be in the knowledge of a vital public service well done.

The American fighting forces and the American people at large are receiving a kind of medical service unrivaled on earth. No other nation enjoys higher standards of health—and in no other nation are the requirements laid down by the military services, so high. The health of our people is one of our greatest weapons. The doctor will play a decisive role in the winning of the war.

"Serve in Silence"

H. D. Collier, president of the Standard Oil Company of California, made a statement to that company's employees which is worthy of widest possible attention.

Mr. Collier said: "One of the most important ways of contributing to success, is to protect the Army and Navy by refraining from discussing their activities."

He pointed out that where the company employees (this applies with equal force to the employees of any company) are in contact with our armed forces, they should keep all information acquired, to themselves. "Don't even tell your friends. A casual comment about the movement of ships, naval or merchant, or about the movement of troops, might be of great value to the enemy and lead to a disaster. Military authorities are pleading that the public refrain from gossip and the spreading of rumors."

"We have a most serious duty. 'Serve in silence.' Don't reveal military information."

Each and every citizen can perform a valuable service for our armed forces as well as the people at home, by following this sound advice.

Funny world! Finally decided that the only way to get peace was fight for it.

When the modern girl blushes you have to take her word for it.

Dixon Indicted as "Killer" of Nearby Towns Back in 1903

Files of Telegraph Tell of Indictment by a Chicago Editor

(From the issue of the Dixon Evening Telegraph, January 26, 1903.)

A Chicago editor gets in a reminiscent mood and gives some early history of Dixon and vicinity, to which we add our thoughts:

In a dozen villages in Illinois, the plowshare grates upon the forgotten stones of the foundations and the glamour of a "Sweet Auburn" is over their rustic ruins. In other villages there are traces of their former activities in the shape of habitable houses here and there and perhaps a rural church, but their industries are still and their population of years ago have drifted with the prairie winds.

"Killed by railroads" has been the epitaph for most of these villages. Dead at the hands of a village undreamed of when the foundations were laid for some of these natural towns, one may look upon some of the present bustling cities of Illinois, and pointing with accusing finger say, "Thou art the one!"

In this list of towns and cities which have buried others of their class and kind under fields of grain and broad pasture lands, Dixon in Lee county is subject to indictment beyond almost any other. With its population of some 11,000, one may ask of it, "Where are Daysville and Grand Detour and Watertown and Lee Center and Carthage and others?" The question will not be answered by the modern city of Dixon or by the NorthWestern railroad under the management of today. But Dixon and the railroad have buried them.

Fate of Grand Detour
Grand Detour is one of the marked victims of the road and of Dixon, and the fact that a remnant of the village is still there makes its case the more pathetic. The site of it was in a sweeping curve of the Rock river, chosen when Dixon was only a ferrying point on the same river. It was in the summer of 1834 that Leonard Andrus, paddling a canoe went up the Rock river on an exploration. The great sweep of the river, with its water power only for the harnessing, appealed to him. He landed, laid claim to the site, and the next season, accompanied by W. A. House, went back and built the first log cabin.

Two years later Grand Detour was a factor in the progress of the territory. It experienced a "boom" and on the fourth of July, 1836, the day was celebrated by digging a town well. A year later the Grand Detour Hydraulic company was an entity and had put up one of the pretentious hotels of the region. John Deere established a blacksmith shop in the village and in 1839 made the first plow turned out in Illinois. Then was started the famous Grand Detour Plow company which furnishes agricultural implements for the Great West and is now located in Dixon. His son, Charles Deere, now head of the well known plow manufacturing works at Moline, was born in 1839 and was the first boy baby in the settlement.

Then, with Gran de Tour on the crest of a great wave of progress in the early fifties the NorthWestern and Illinois Central, running west and north through Dixon's Ferry and Gran de Tour began to wane. Today it has 391 population, against 406 residents in 1890.

Daysville was three years younger than Gran de Tour and was situated upon the banks of the same stream. Austin Williams laid first claim to land on its site and put up the first house there in 1837. Jehiel Day and Jonathan Rowson and James Moore bought him out and the town began to develop under the name of Daysville. The early Methodists made Daysville a point on the circuit riding of their ministry, a pole ferry was established there and the New England house was one of the greatest hostilities of the whole section.

Then came the railroad and Dixon did the rest.

Railroad Killed Lee Center
Lee Center, in Lee county, did not come upon the scene until 1847. In that year it built a seminary costing $2,000, and a year later the school had 150 pupils, most of them from distant places in Illinois. The town was beginning to get that Evanston feeling when—

The railroad pressed the button and Dixon did the rest.

And there was Watertown. Watertown tagged in after Daysville had established corporation limits and proceeded to a squatter claim just a mile and a half east of that line. It died with its boots on. Of these four victims of Dixon, only Gran de Tour has a place on the census reports of 1900. Watertown has not one stone left upon another.

Washington, Jan. 19.—There is grumbling because Donald Nelson has no act of congress upon which to stand and do the biggest job of the war — generalissimo of production on the home front. The related facts of the appointment are these:

Roosevelt promised to let Nelson write his own White House law. The President kept that promise. The executive order was written by Nelson and his OPM attorney, Milton Katz, formerly with the Securities & Exchange Commission and Justice Department. Friends told Nelson that he had better make it good, or some day he might wish he had. Roosevelt signed it without changing a word.

No one needs a law around this town ordinarily if Roosevelt is for him. This order gives Nelson the President's firm backing to direct the OPM, army and navy procurement and even Jesse Jones (first time the commerce secretary ever let anyone get authority to tell him what to do.)

The difference between this and the older order is clearly presented on the point of the Supply Priorities and Allocations Board. Formerly the board made decisions and Nelson was only the executive officer designated to carry out the decisions. Now Nelson will act with "the advice and assistance" (but not the consent) of the board. He has a free directing hand.

Roosevelt, of course, still holds loose reins. Nelson is to be his agent. The President may prescribe "added duties" for Nelson. Yet the very nature of the order (plus Nelson's independent personality) makes it clear FDR is handing the whole matter over to Nelson with only a few inconsequential legal strings attached.

This, then, is a genuine reorganization, the first one so far. It is a reorganization to end all reorganizations on our most important battle line in the factories. Roosevelt jumped to it only 24 hours ahead of the bayonet in the Truman committee report, exposing gross deficiencies of the old setup. If another reorganization ever becomes necessary, the continuing Truman committee will no doubt take hold of it for congress.

But there is no reason for expecting that Nelson has a terrific will to win. He is not a fuddy-duddy kow-tower to the great invisible god of drag behind all swivel chairs in Washington—the influence of connections in the new deal family, the august aloofness of army and navy which no civilian has ever penetrated, "who" went to college with "whom," etc.

How far the President went in this respect is disclosed in his designation of William Knudsen as a lieutenant general. FDR had to reach for a lot of stars for that little title, but it was necessary so Knudsen could outrank some of the generals of the war department and be able to overrule them.

Roosevelt could only have been thinking of army ordinance (procurement and munitions boards) upon whom criticism has long been centered. Knudsen is supposed to be sent into the field, right into the production plants, where his genius for mass production can best be used. Yet it is possible he or Nelson will direct some long needed administrative changes—such as requiring one officer of ordinance to be responsible for each project, rather than allowing the whole bureau to be responsible for everything. Centralization of authority, now at long last accepted at the top, may yet be made the dominant theme of our war effort all the way down the line.

Nelson himself certainly knows he is to take the rap, the whole rap and nothing but the rap for victory or defeat. When friends congratulated him, he said he really deserved their commiseration.

His first job is to cut through what Sorokin might call the "wantitive colossalism" of the old regime and get himself an efficient setup. He probably will put his own procurement experts into the war and navy alongside present officers to show them how to move fast.

OPM will no doubt decline and evolve into a Nelson staff, and a comfortable bench for all the industrialists and labor leaders not otherwise occupied. Priorities will probably go into the army-navy munitions board. A Nelson board may be appointed to advise him on plant conversion. Someone has suggested Sidney Hillman should be made an admiral (screams of anguish from the navy department.)

Initial tough nut for Nelson will be the situation in the motors industry. Most government authorities are ready to shoot motor industrialists at sunrise for suggesting private car production be carried beyond January. They say

United States Ever-Normal Granary Is Now Paying Profits

Inventory Value of Stored Grains Up $100,000,000 Now

Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The nation's ever-normal granary, instituted in time of plenty to prevent price collapse, now is paying wartime dividends.

Due to war-stimulated demand for food, Uncle Sam and the grain producers who have cooperated in recent years in holding back from market record breaking supplies of grain today have stores with an estimated inventory value of at least $100,000,000 greater than the original worth. More than a billion bushels of wheat and corn are involved.

This includes grain once held in the granary but recently put into consumption channels. With prices of both corn and wheat near top levels since 1937, Uncle Sam and cooperating farmers as well have been cashing profits. The government has sold about 25,000,000 bushels of wheat and more than 100,000,000 of corn in recent months.

As has been the case the last two years, the wheat farmers who put grain into storage, taking government loans which, in effect, amounted to guarantees of certain prices, now are able to market their grain at prices above original rates. Much of this wheat is appearing on the market now.

Profits Prorated
The government lending agency, the Commodity Credit Corporation, which had to take over about 175,000,000 bushels of 1939-1940 wheat last year in default of loans when prices were considerably below a dollar, also is disposing of its stocks. Any profits from this operation, after administrative and handling expenses, may be prorated to participating producers.

Profits accruing on this back-up wheat vary. On approximately 350,000,000 bushels of 1941 wheat stored under loans farmers now can realize prices ranging from 10 to 15 cents over original loan rates. After payment of storage and interest charges, traders estimate the paper profits would be close to $20,000,000.

On the 175,000,000 bushels of CCC wheat, part of which already has been disposed of, the indicated profit per bushel is much greater because the government acquired the grain in default of original loans which were based at only 81 cents a bushel in Chicago, or almost 50 cents below the present market.

ALLOTMENTS BOOSTED
Decatur, Ill., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Lee M. Gentry, state AAA chairman, announced today a ten per cent increase in 1942 allotments to commercial corn growers.

The added acreage will assure adequate feed supplies, Gentry said, but he urged Illinois farmers to budget their land to meet increased wartime demand for other farm products.

As originally announced last fall, the corn allotments were approximately the same as for 1941. Gentry said the "usual corn acreage" under which an individual farmer may plant without loss of AAA program payments or privileges other than those for corn would be established at 130 per cent of the revised 1942 allotment.

The upward revision was designed to replace withdrawals from the ever normal granary for increased feeding and for commercial uses.

EDWARD R. DUIS

(Contributed)

Edward Richard Duis was born Nov. 4, 1865 in Ostfriesland, Germany, the son of Henry and Etta Duis. In infancy he was baptized in the name of the Triune God, and later confirmed this faith before the Rev. Mr. Staufenberg at the Duis school in South Dixon township.

Mr. Duis came to America in October, 1875, and resided with his parents on the Dutch road, and in May 1877 moved with them to Nelson, returning to South Dixon township in 1895, where he resided on a farm until 1939, at which time he retired and moved to Sterling.

On Dec. 19, 1895 he was united in marriage with Miss Helena Catherine Siefkin by the Rev. Mr. Lenz. To this union two children were born, Frank and Etta. Mrs. Duis preceded her husband in death Nov. 24, 1940.

After a brief illness Mr. Duis departed this life at the Sterling public hospital on Friday evening, Jan. 16, 1942 at the age of 76 years, two months and 12 days. He leaves to mourn his passing his son Frank of Sterling; his daughter, Mrs. Etta Henninger of Kenosha, Wis.; and two grandchildren, Frank Jr. and Jackie Duis. Mr. Duis was one of the charter members of Immanuel Lutheran church in Dixon.

Mrs. Barrowman Heads Parker Club

Mrs. E. E. Barrowman, worthy matron of Dorothy chapter, O. E. S., was elected president of the Rebecca Parker club, Rock River Valley chapter, O. E. S., at a dinner meeting at the Masonic temple in Lanark on Sunday. Other officers named were: Harold Hartman of Freeport, vice president; Mrs. Willis Smith of Oregon, secretary-treasurer.

The Barrowmans, Mrs. Harold Emmert, and L. C. Santelman will entertain the Rebecca Parker and Minnie Caperton clubs here at dinner on Sunday, Feb. 15.

YVONNE RINEHART IS COMPLIMENTED

Miss Yvonne Rinehart, who is soon to become the bride of Peter McKune, was guest of honor at a pre-nuptial party Sunday. About 25 guests gathered at the Maurice McKune home, where Mrs. McKune and her daughter, Agnes, were entertaining with an afternoon party for the fiancé of their son and brother.

Humorous advice was given to the honoree. Afterward, lunch was served at a table attractively appointed in the patriotic motif.

Miss Rinehart is the only daughter of the Delbert Rineharts.

MRS. WALTER AND MRS. DICK GIVE LUNCHEON

Mrs. H. F. Walter and Mrs. Gavin Dick combined their party-giving efforts yesterday. They were entertaining 20 guests at luncheon and contract at the Walter home.

Those receiving prizes at the bridge tables were Mrs. L. C. Street, Mrs. L. E. Jacobson, and Mrs. G. W. Gehant.

CORRECTION

Mrs. George Palmer and Louis Pitcher, guests at Sunday's celebration of the M. C. Stitzels' golden wedding anniversary at Nelson, were also present at the couple's wedding 50 years ago. In yesterday's account of the celebration, the name of Mrs. G. W. Palmer of Princeton was erroneously listed as one of the wedding guests. Mrs. George Palmer is a sister of Mr. Stitzel.

MONDAY NIGHTERS

Monday Nighters were entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. Glen Shaver. At 500, Mrs. Albert Koehler, Mrs. Linnie Buchanan and Mrs. Harold Graf received prizes. Mrs. Koehler is to entertain, Feb. 2.

TEN CHILDREN OF J. B. WOLFS HONOR COUPLE AT THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

—Telegraph Engraving

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wolf

High mass, celebrated at St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church at 7:30 a. m., by the Rev. Father T. L. Walsh, ushered in a day of unforgettable happiness on Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. J. Bernard Wolf, pictured above, who were observing their golden wedding anniversary of Saturday.

Birth of another great-grandson—their ninth great-grandchild—on their anniversary (which also marks the birthday anniversary of a granddaughter, Mrs. Maurice Spangler); a Sunday dinner for 44 relatives, and an open house reception for 100 or more additional guests added to the couple's pleasure. The infant great-grandchild was born Saturday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wolf (Alta Wright) at Katherine Shaw Be-thea hospital.

All of the couple's ten children were present for their parents' anniversary party. Only one of the 25 grandchildren, Mrs. Spangler, was unable to be present.

Mrs. Wolf, 67, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Grobe. Her father came to the United States from Germany as a young boy, and settled with his parents on a farm about a half mile from the Wolfs' present farm home, about six miles southwest of Dixon. The farm on which her parents settled is now known as the Frank Swartz farm.

Mr. Wolf is 75. He has always been a farmer.

The couple were married at the rectory of St. Patrick's church, Jan. 17, 1892. Their children include Mrs. C. E. Poisel of Dixon, James and Henry Wolf of Sterling, Raymond Wolf of Rock Falls, Joseph Wolf, Mrs. William Skeffington, Mrs. Raymond Brechon, and Mrs. Ernest Michel of Dixon. Mrs. Robert Springer of Skokie, Ill., who is a registered nurse at St. Francis hospital in Evanston, and David T. Wolf of Amboy.

D. W. Wolf of Sterling is Mr. Wolf's only brother. Mrs. Wolf has seven brothers and sisters, Mrs. Clarence Buzard of Pasadena, Calif., William Grobe of Sterling, Charles Grobe, Henry Grobe, Mrs. Elmer Stevens and Mrs. Earl Pope of Dixon, and Mrs. Fred Janse of Rock Falls.

Miss Zita Wolf of Sterling, a niece, and the Misses Evelyn Wolf of Sterling and Teresa Brechon of Dixon, granddaughters, assisted with the serving at the anniversary dinner. A three-tiered cake, iced with yellow roses, and a bouquet of yellow roses decorated the table. A purse of money was presented to the couple from their children, and there were numerous other remembrances, including many bouquets of cut flowers.

About 100 guests were received from Dixon, Sterling, Rock Falls, and Chicago, during the afternoon and evening.

IN FLORIDA

The John H. Grieses of Ashton, who are spending the winter at Tampa, Fla., joined the Roy Heibenthals and Mrs. Emma Yenerich, also of Ashton, for dinner recently at Bradenton, Fla., according to word received here. During a sightseeing tour, following the dinner, the party visited Sarasota Beach, and other points.

The vacationists describe the fruit crop as "plentiful and larger than last year."

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Kalb of Western Spring spent today in Grand Detour, visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Grover Moss.

JOLLY CLUB

Mrs. Bert Kested will be hostess to the Jolly club at 2 p. m. Thursday. Members are asked to come prepared for Red Cross sewing.

STEVE BUBRICK, MISS AVILDSEN, WED IN CHICAGO

Miss Lucille Avildsen of Chicago became the bride of Steve Bubrick, Jr. of Chicago, son of the senior Steve Bubricks of Dixon, in a noon nuptial ceremony Saturday at the City Hall in Chicago. Judge Wallace performed the ceremony.

Miss LaNore Gundersen and Clare Carroll attended the couple. The bride wore a street dress of powder blue wool crepe with a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Fifty guests were entertained at a reception Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents at 1431 North Keeler avenue, Chicago. On Sunday afternoon, the bridegroom's parents were entertaining for the newlyweds. Among the guests were the Bubricks' youngest son, Anthony, and his bride of last week, the former Miss Cecile Liston of Amboy. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Steve Schottek of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bubrick.

The couple returned to Chicago, Sunday evening, and will be at home at the Wellington Crest Apartment hotel, 540 Wellington. The bride is employed at the Wellington Crest beauty salon, and Mr. Bubrick is with the Ingersoll Manufacturing company in Chicago.

Dixon Bride

Mrs. L. C. Dimond

Before her marriage at St. John's Lutheran church in Sterling, Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Dimond was Miss Ruth Jane Perry. The bride is a daughter of the Frank Perrys of 1111 Fourth street. Later this week, the couple will be at home at 811 Court 8, Springbrook Courts, Moline. The bridegroom, a son of the E. W. Dimonds of Sterling, is employed at the Rock Island arsenal.

MRS. TRAUTWEIN IS NEW HEAD OF SERVICE CLUB

Mrs. Forrest J. Trautwein is the new president of the Service club. Election of officers took place yesterday, when the clubwomen met at the new home of Mrs. R. E. Erikson at Grand Detour.

Mrs. R. A. Joslyn is to serve as secretary, and Mrs. Donald B. Raymond, as treasurer. Following the business meeting, the members were occupied with Red Cross knitting.

Mrs. Kent Leeper presided at the tea table at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. Edward Jones is to be the next hostess.

THEY REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR

Three young Dixonites collaborated on the writing, directing and staging of a three-act playlet, presented Saturday evening in the reception hall of the Dixon State hospital staff building. An admission charge of five cents was made, and profits—$3.01—were donated to the Red Cross.

The enterprising and patriotic young playwright-actors were Thomas Robert Glatzer, son of Dr. and Mrs. Z. Glatzer; Leisel Rosenberg, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Carl Rosenberg; and Rosiland Leef, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Leef. For good measure, dance numbers and a quiz contest were added at the conclusion of the entertainment.

BARTONS HAVE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Barton were entertaining unexpected guests Saturday evening, when about 25 relatives and friends gathered to help them celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Instigators of the surprise were the couple's three daughters, and Mrs. W. A. Sieling.

Moving pictures were shown by Louis Zigler of Sterling of the Zigler-Barton wedding of last October and the Zigler's trip to Florida last winter. A purse of money was the group's gift for Mr. and Mrs. Barton.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. Out of town guests were present from Sterling, Coleta, Lamolite, and Van Orin.

The Barton's son, Robert, and a son-in-law, James, were unable to attend.

BRIDGE GUESTS

Mrs. F. J. Rosbrook entertained a few guests at bridge last evening.

DRAFTEES ARE SUPPER GUESTS

Three draftees, Kenneth Gerdas, Lawrence Sheller, and Eddie Lester, were guests of honor last evening at a turkey supper at Harry Herbst's cottage at White Rock. The trio, who leave soon for service in the army, have been active members of the Young Republican club.

Fourteen friends were present to honor the three last evening.

WEDDING GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roth of Oregon, Ill., were among out of town guests attending the wedding of Miss Betty Ann Erzinger and Gene Duke of Moline, Saturday afternoon, at the Silvis Methodist church. The ceremony was followed by a reception and dinner at the Short Hills Country club for more than 100 guests.

ATTEND BANQUET

Mrs. Marjorie McClanahan, Mrs. Hazel Miller, Miss Doris Boyer and Miss Emma Smith were in Rockford last evening, attending the twenty-fifth anniversary banquet of the Winnebago chapter of the American Red Cross.

SUPPER GUESTS

The LeGrand Cannons entertained a few guests at supper Sunday evening.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
(Wide World Sports Columnist)
New York, Jan. 20.—(Wide World)—Rogers Hornsby, baseball's newest hall of famer, is concentrating these days on getting his Fort Worth club into something better than fourth place in the Texas League. He won't even consider the second division. Hornsby claims he never was bothered much by left-handed pitching. "I always hit at the ball—not at the pitcher's motion," he recently said. "I didn't care if the pitcher threw with his foot as long as the ball came in the strike zone." Scotty Monteth, Detroit field promoter, has shifted his base of operations from the fair grounds Coliseum, far from the downtown area, to the close-in Moose Temple—tire shortage.

Quote, Unquote
Greg Rice, distance running champ: "I don't make any great plea for athletics in time of war. But I do think that competition is the easiest way to get a fellow to take care of himself."

Sportpourri
Southwestern College of Winfield, Kans., sank 19 free throws out of 19 tries against Pittsburgh Teachers the other night and fans are asking if there's a better record than that. Nick Lukats, the old Notre Dame footballer, is collaborating with author Bill Brent on the screen play in which Frankie Albert is to make his debut. "Uncle Sam may get Albert before the movies. He has had some missing teeth replaced and expects to be reclassified as 1-A in the draft." Joe McCarthy says the big problems next season will be pitching and hitting—for the teams that play the Yanks.

Today's Guest Star
Walter Stewart, Memphis Commercial Appeal: "Hans Lobert, new manager of the Phillies, used to be a carpenter and still has a fine set of wood working tools. These will be indeed useful when he attempts to get ideas into the heads of his brilliant hired hands!"

Person-Allies-Ties
B. S. Moss, who started building those super-deluxe movie houses, is applying the same idea to a string of bowling emporiums. A picked team from the Grandfather's League of Erie, Pa., has entered the A. B. C. tournament. How about a match against Chicago's Grandmothers' League? Just as A. E. Loomer stepped up to bowl a strike in Oklahoma City the other night, a mouse popped up in front of him. Spectators report it was lucky no one was between him and the first row of seats or it wouldn't have been the pins that were bowled over.

Games on Ice
When Wausau (Wis.) high school started the new hockey season by beating Stevens Point last week, it was the team's 68th game without a loss over a ten-year stretch. Only blot on the record was a tie—eight years ago.

Charley Gehring Ends Activities as Player

Detroit, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Charley Gehring, the distinguished Detroit Tiger infielder, finally has reached the end of the baseball trail as an active player. With the signing as coach the veteran, ranked as one of the all-time great, brought to an end a 16-year major league career on second base that had few parallels. Last week the Detroit manager, in announcing the 1942 roster, omitted Gehring's name, but left the way open for him to remain as coach. Yesterday Gehring, as he has done for years past, was the first to sign a contract, accepting the club's offer.

Our word "nickname" comes from the expression "an eke-name," or an added name.

Fabulous Baseball Career of One and Only "Rajah" Leads to Fame

New York, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The fabulous baseball career of Rogers Hornsby, the greatest right-handed hitter of all time, carried him into the hall of fame today.

The "Rajah," who performed for five different clubs and managed four of them in a 23-year span in the majors, who batted over 400 in three seasons and twice was named the most valuable player in the National League, who earned perhaps half a million dollars from baseball and lost most of it, received 182 votes out of 233 cast by baseball writers.

As a result a bronze plaque, bearing his dimple-cheeked likeness, will soon be placed alongside those of baseball's other immortals—Cobb, Wagner, Ruth, Matthewson and the rest—in the little shrine at Cooperstown, N. Y.

Hornsby, who will be 46 in April, now is the general manager and bench pilot of Fort Worth in the Texas League. He is a jovial, grey-haired minor league executive. But in days that a vast majority of the baseball fans can still remember he was a bright comet shooting an unpredictable course across sport's horizon.

Started With Cardinals
He broke into the National League with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1915 as a shortstop. Later he played every position in the infield, tried the outfield, and moved to the New York Giants, to the Boston Braves, to the Chicago Cubs, to the Cardinals again and

Lead in Three-Cushion Tourney Divided Today Among 3 Cue Experts

Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—A pair of great matches in which the same score of 50 to 49 provided the winner's margin kept the leadership in the world three-cushion billiards championship meet divided today among Willie Hoppe of New York, Walker Cochran of San Francisco and Joe Chamaco of Mexico City.

Chamaco was forced to come from behind with an unfinished run of seven to defeat John Fitzpatrick of Los Angeles in one 55-minute thriller yesterday, and in the other Cochran battled Ralph Greenleaf of Monmouth, Ill., through 64 innings lasting more than 2 hours and 45 minutes before he pulled out ahead.

Hoppe had an easy time registering his fourth century, besting Otto Reisel of Philadelphia, 50 to 34, in 37 innings. Today Cochran opposed Reisel and Arthur Thurnblad, and Earle Lookabaugh, both Chicagoans, were matched. Tonight Hoppe will meet Greenleaf and Chamaco will face Jake Schaefer of Cleveland.

Ella Mae Williams in Battle With Her 'Jinx'

Punta Gorda, Fla., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Tall, blonde Ella Mae Williams of Chicago, who is a fashion model in her spare time, planned a supreme effort today to overcome the "jinx" of being often a runner up but seldom a winner in golf tournaments.

The only obstacle in her path was Louise Suggs of Lithia Springs, Ga., the tiny brunette defending champion, whom she meets today in the finals of the annual Punta Gorda women's tourney.

Miss Williams yesterday disposed of Mary Jayne Garmen of Sarasota, Fla., 3 and 2, and Miss Suggs eliminated Georgia Tainter of Fargo, N. D., 5 and 4.

The Chicago golfer is the daughter of Eddie Williams, new senator P. G. A. champion, and for three years she has been state champion of Illinois.

Visitors to Grand Teton National Park, Wyoming, in 1940 totaled 103,324 in 31,500 private automobiles.

Illinois and Gophers Will Decide Big Ten Lead Saturday Eve

Undisputed Possession of Top Round in Cage Race Is At Stake

Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Without a doubt the big game on Saturday's Western Conference schedule is Minnesota at Illinois.

The Gophers, by steady plugging after an early-season defeat at the hands of Northwestern, have risen to a powerhouse status and are in second place with five victories and just that one loss, Illinois, swinging along on the enthusiasm and fire of four sophomores, has won five straight for the undisputed leadership.

So if Minnesota wins Saturday it will occupy the top spot. If Illinois triumphs it will have repelled a dangerous foe and boosted its own margin in first place.

The Gophers' 52-28 decision over Chicago last night was a breeze, just as have been the triumphs scored by five other teams over the helpless Maroons this campaign. Illinois had to dig for its 42-35 margin over Iowa, however, in a pell-mell game where the lead changed hands seven times and was tied three times.

In the two other games last night a couple of up-and-coming quintets continued their climb. Wisconsin won its third straight victory after three straight losses in downing Michigan, 58-36. Ohio State, starting out with three spankings in a row, took its second straight win, this one 51-41 from Northwestern's fading Wildcats.

That left only four teams with less than three defeats—unconquered Illinois, once-beaten Minnesota and Purdue, and twice-topped Indiana. The last two fives were idle over the week-end.

Maroons Fold As Usual
Minnesota's overwhelming victory over Chicago last night was characteristic of the way the Maroons have folded six times this year. After a couple of minutes getting their sights set, the Gophers roared off to a 30-18 halftime lead and laid on the bone-crushing attack in the second period. The mighty man of Minnesota's drive was Tony Jaros, who tossed in 25 points.

Iowa and Illinois pitched into a brisk first half battle from which the leaders emerged with a 20-19 halftime margin. The Hawkeyes kept up their drive for 10 minutes of the second half, when Illinois moved ahead at 30-29 on Gene Vance's basket and stayed in front to the finish.

The Badgers led Michigan all the way in their game at Madison, the home five holding a 24-12 halftime edge. Johnny Kotz regained his basket eye and connected with 21 points for Wisconsin.

Max Geowetz again was the top point-maker for Ohio State as the Buckeyes shook off Northwestern twice in the first half and moved to a 29-30 lead at the intermission, then put on a burst in the second half to stay well in front. Geowetz tallied 16 points. Otto Graham of Northwestern racked up 12 points but the high man on his team was Russ Wendland, with 16.

Mrs. Ray Glover and Mrs. Ed

Scully had charge of the social hour at the regular meeting of the C. D. of A. Monday evening. Prize winners in bridge were Miss Margaret Gugerty and Miss Ella Gorman. A tasty lunch was served.
Julius Rickert and son Bobby of Minneapolis, Minn. spent last Sunday with his mother Mrs. John Rickert who is ill.
The residents of the Doran apartments gave a birthday party last Monday evening for Mrs. Joseph Doran Sr. and presented her with a nice gift. Bridge provided entertainment, high prizes being awarded to Mrs. F. C. Albrecht and Giles Melody, and low to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Evans.
Mrs. Margaret Albrecht was hostess last week to the Wednesday bridge club with Mrs. Edith Saltzman winning first prize and Mrs. Mae Burke, second.

Fight With Cops Lands Worker in Marion Jail
Marion, Ill., Jan. 20—(AP)—Henning Karby, Illinois ordnance plant worker, is in the Herrin hospital in serious condition with a bullet wound in the left lung following what Chief of Police Ben Culbreth described as an encounter with Marion police Sunday night.
Culbreth said he and Patrolman Tom Lewis found Karby in a downtown alley and when he refused to answer their questions they placed him under arrest.

Both police officers said Karby attacked Culbreth at the door of the city jail and Karby was shot in the struggle for Culbreth's gun. Hospital records showed Karby was 32 years old and a former resident of Pleasant Ridge, Mich.

Stubborn Fire in Heart of Sterling Business District

Fire, which originated from the explosion of fumes from gasoline, with which Harold McChesney and Joe Niesen were cleaning the blower of the heating equipment in Killian Brothers tavern, cigar store and billiard parlors in the heart of the Sterling business district, completely gutted the building and sent McChesney and Niesen to physicians for treatment of burns last night.

The fire started at about 8:00 o'clock and it was well after midnight before the combined efforts of the Sterling and Rock Falls firemen had brought it under control. Damage to the building and contents, it was estimated, will total between $40,000 and $50,000. The Davis & Dabler barber shop, east of the cigar store, suffered some smoke damage.

LEGAL PUBLICATION

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PROBATE OF WILL
State of Illinois, County of Lee, ss.
In the County Court.

To Clarence Campbell, the unknown children and heirs at law of Malinda Curry, deceased and the unknown heirs at law of Clark Campbell, deceased.

You and each of you will hereby take notice that an instrument purporting to be the last will of Amanda Moore, deceased, has been filed in the office of the Clerk of the County Court of the County of Lee, Illinois, together with the petition of Oscar G. Peniston representing among other things that the names of all the heirs, legatees and devisees of said deceased are as follows, to wit:

Harriet Haynes, Foster Curry, Rush Curry, Dare Clark Campbell, Albert Campbell, Frank Campbell, Harrison Campbell, Earl Campbell, Clarence Campbell, Bessie Campbell, Beulah Campbell, Thaddeus Campbell, E. Earl Campbell, Frank Campbell, Albert Campbell, William Moore, Edward Spotts, Oscar G. Peniston, Gladys Lucile Peniston, the unknown children and heirs at law of Malinda Curry, deceased, and the unknown heirs at law of Clark Campbell, deceased and praying that said instrument be admitted to probate as the last will of said deceased, and that the same be ordered recorded.

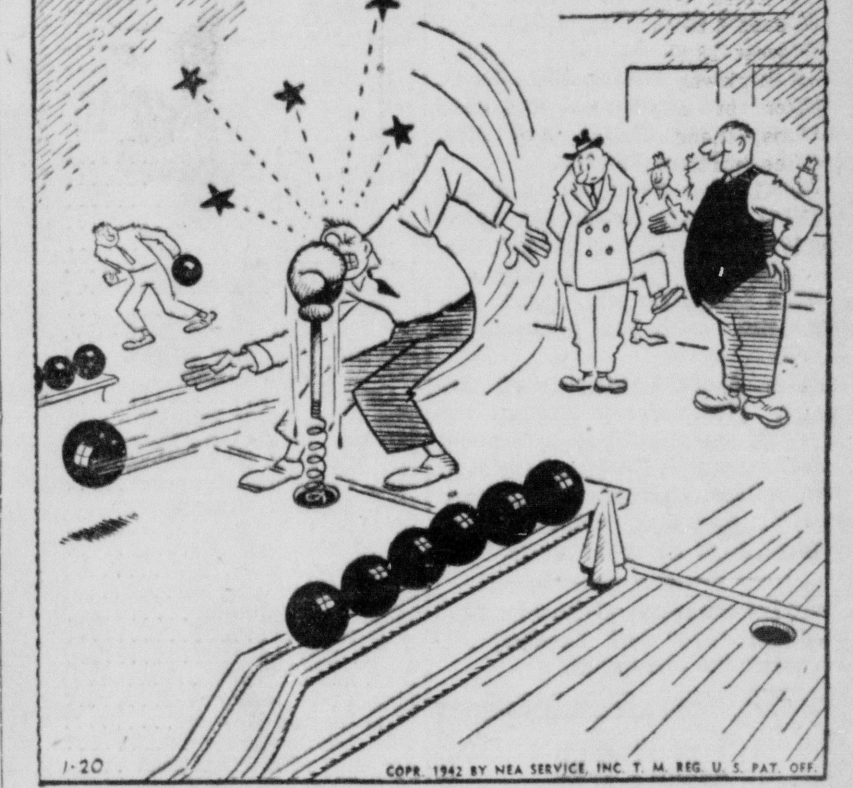

You will also take notice that the hearing on said petition and the proof on said purported last will has been set by said Court for the 16th day of February, 1942, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the County Court Room in the City of Dixon in said County, when and where you may appear and show cause, if any you have, why said purported last will should not be admitted to probate.

Dated this 12th day of January, 1942.
(SEAL)
Sterling D. Schrock
Clerk of the County Court of said County.
